

Western Reserve Joint Fire District Station 91 Renovation Poland, Ohio

The Western Reserve Joint Fire District Station 91 Renovation was comprised of a new front entrance portico with ADA compliant entry and ramp, new pitched roof structure over apparatus bays, new roofing and trim, new windows and overhead vision doors, and exterior masonry restoration. Other work included a new approach apron with improved storm water drainage, a vehicle exhaust evacuation system and emergency generator. Designed while partner with HSA. Cost $310,000.

energy
explore educate
envision
efficiency
experience
expectation
environment

Team 8e
architecture